Ed:

I looked through my emails and we did not receive a copy of the report from CBRE at the time of the inspection in November for asbestos survey. They are not required to provide us with copies of the report, as annual air quality testing is a GSA requirement, but any testing performed independently by the property management outside of that, is at their own discretion. Even with the annual testing, they are not required to provide the agency a copy, though sometimes they will as a courtesy, depending on the property management.

I did find however, the email below when we received an inquiry from NTEU about asbestos in May 2013. At that time, the property management had switched over to Colliers, and the property manager, Matt Volz, responded to the question with the answer below.

Thanks,

There is no asbestos in the building. An extensive report was performed to confirm this.
